Michel Foucault was a French historian and philosopher associated with the structuralist and post-structuralist movements. He has had a strong influence not only in philosophy but also in a wide range of humanistic and social scientific disciplines. His work does not initially understand ethics as moral philosophy, the metaphysical and epistemological investigation of ethical concepts. Instead, Foucault defines ethics as a relation of self to itself.